A missionary friend of ours was told that when she went to speak to a church she should say that she had good news and bad news. The good news was that she had 100% of her support; the bad news was that it was still in their pockets. Though meant to be humorous, there is truth to that statement. We believe that as God has called us to go; so He has also called others to give.

Good News: These last few months have been a good time of rest, recuperation, and catching up on all the paper work that we were unable to do while traveling. We were also able to do a couple of 3-5 day trips to visit friends nearby (in our Alaska way of thinking anyway). We are now ready to hit the road in earnest once again and are looking forward to visiting with even more of you, our friends and supporters.

More Good News: God has provided a new (to us) vehicle. As many of you know, either by experience or by talking to us, though the mini-van is considered the classic family car it doesn't have the space needed for long distances or continuous travel. We've also noticed that children's car seats tend to take up a lot of room, so that even without luggage we are almost at full capacity. That being said, God has provided, through the generosity of His people, a 1995 GMC Suburban. We are looking forward to the increased cargo space as we get back on the road again. Sarabeth is also looking forward to being able to sit up front with Scott and still be able to reach the kids when they need her.

Our Home Service time is quickly coming near its scheduled end date, but we still have many to see and share with. As you look at our itinerary below, is there something you can do to help fill it in? We would like to fill as many dates as we can with opportunities to share what God is doing through the broadcast ministries of SEND in Alaska, and we need help with introductions to your churches, Sunday schools, small groups, and interested friends. God is calling other people just like you to fill the need of spreading the Gospel through radio in the north. Please email us or call us to let us know of any invitations you have.

Family Update

Kara is now nine months old and making sure to keep us all on our toes. She is eagerly crawling all over the house and pulling herself up on everything. (Watch out world here she comes!) She enjoys feeding herself, 'playing' with her brother and sister, and of course standing up.

Lydia is our extrovert and loves to be around people. She really likes Sunday nights when Grandpa and Grandma host their Bible-study and she gets to mingle with and charm all the adults. She still loves to take walks, although she now prefers to walk rather than ride in the stroller. She is excited to explore the world around her; stopping to point at and ask questions about everything.

Matthew, now four years old, is enjoying going to the 'big kids' Sunday school and attending children's church and Awana Cubbies. Daddy has set up a computer for him in the living room and he has taken to it like a duck to water. He has especially likes the preschool computer program we found for him.

The kids are holding up well despite the transient nature of our lives right now. Instead of playing 'house' they 'pack their bags' and travel through the house staying at various 'hotels' on their journey. We've had some colds, but nothing serious. They have adjusted well to traveling and are glad to have a home here at Grandpa and Grandmas in between trips.

We are looking forward to seeing you soon and being able to share how God is using the radio stations to spread the gospel and help church planting efforts in Alaska. We pray this letter finds you and your families well and in His blessings.

In His Service,

Scott and Sarabeth

Prayer and Praises:

Prayer...

- Pray for NEW partners to support the ministry.
- Pray for continued planning of our home service.
- Pray for many NEW opportunities to share our ministry with others.
- Pray for the radio stations as they are without an engineer while we are gone.
- Pray for safety (and sanity) as we travel.

Praises...

- Praise for a larger vehicle.
- Praise for the safety in our travels.
- Praise for the chance to renew our friendships with all of you.
- Praise for those of you who are continuing in your support of this call to ministry.

And THANK God for His care and grace to us.
