Why we Do...

Many of you have heard us say that in Christian Radio we seldom hear about how God is using radio to change lives. We wanted to share with you a recent note we had from a lady in the listening community of KCAM:

I am flying high today...Last night a woman from the community came over to talk. She is an unbeliever and had heard part of our pastor's Sunday morning message on the radio a couple of Sundays ago and she was VERY UPSET! The pastor has been preaching on 1 Timothy; the part she heard was from the second chapter when Paul was giving instructions on worship and said "that a woman should learn in quietness and full submission...she must not teach or have authority over a man, she must be silent." HOW COULD HE SAY THAT?

This started an excellent discussion that lasted over 4 hours, and we sat with an open Bible, reading all sorts of things—the Holy Spirit was active! This is SO exciting as I have been praying for this woman for probably about 15 years. This is the second time in the past month we have gotten together, and she wants to keep doing this. Hooray!

How exciting it is for us when we hear from those that listen to the broadcasts. Knowing that the work we have been called to do is allowing the gospel to reach the hearts of the lost and encourage believers to be bold in their witness. This is the result of the PARTNERSHIP to which God has called you and us! Thank you!

What we do...

There are so many technical and engineering projects that are being planned right now to be done upon our return to the field. Maintaining basic operation of the stations is just a part of the full time job to which we are called.

We currently have two FM station applications that are almost through the approval process by the FCC; once the details are worked out we will need to begin the installations.

The old studios in Glennallen are sinking more into the tundra and there are plans to move the AM transmitter out of that very old building to a newer, more efficient one by the end of August 2008.

I will post more projects on our website so that you can see what to pray for specifically – but WE need to get back there to do them!

How we do it!

God is on the move! After a time of waiting and wondering, we have seen significant movement in the raising of additional funds to return to the field. As you can see in the middle column, we have reached 70% of our total needed monthly pledges. He has already raised our outgoing expense amount, so we are looking specifically for those that God is calling to commit to a FAITH PROMISE – 'as God supplies, we will be faithful to sponsor this ministry on a regular basis.' Please pray for this need!

What we are up to...?

Sarabeth walks into the room while Scott is working on the front page of this letter and says “how does Monday at 6 AM sound?” Scott says “did you already say yes?” Well, it might be a little before the due date but since it is a scheduled induction and this is when Sarabeth’s doctor is available, Monday the 21st of April it is! You will probably be reading this post partum, but we appreciate your prayer for a safe and smooth delivery of our 4th baby.

When asked if he was ready to meet his baby brother on Monday Matthew gave a resounding ‘Yes!’ He has been asking for several weeks now if it was time yet. While Lydia doesn’t fully understand what a new baby means, she is eager to hold the baby and likes to pat Mommy’s tummy. She is also looking forward to having Mommy’s lap once again available for snuggling. Kara of course just gives us blank stares when we ask her about being a big sister. She has developed quite an attachment to Grandma that will hopefully make things go more smoothly these next few weeks.

On another note the oil has been leaking more from our vehicle recently and when we had it diagnosed this week we found out that it was losing oil from many “points of interest” and it was estimated at $1100 for the repair. We appreciate your prayer for Scott as he tackles these issues in the coming weeks.

This year’s first BBQ included marshmallows!
